The dimensions on the plans are given without the finishings.
Certain dimensions and shapes can be subject to change during the execution.

Any difference in area, falling within the accepted tolerances, will result in loss or profit for the purchaser without the adjustment of the price.

The furniture is given as an indication. The representations of floor finishes are given for symbolic purposes.

All kitchen appliances are included in the kitchen designer's plan.
All details regarding the sanitary appliances are described in the sales description.

Complete information on the radiators, the electrical installation and the ventilation will be provided after the completion of the construction phase.

Modifications are likely to be made to this plan depending on technical requirements and implementation.
